

Smart Lender – Applicant Credibility Prediction for Loan Approval

Problem Statement:

The greatest issue now facing by the banking sector is client loan default. Consequently, the bank decides if a consumer is qualified for a loan after they apply. However, doing this manually takes a long time. It proposes to use customer data to automate the loan qualification process in real time.